City Boards Pay Their Respects to Mayor Block

Met Monday Evening at City Hall and Adopted Resolutions in His Memory—Judge VanBuren Delivers Eulogy—City Officials to Attend Funeral Services Wednesday at Temple Emanuel.

All of the city boards held special meetings Monday evening at the city hall and adopted resolutions of respect to the memory of Mayor Morris Block who died Sunday in New York City. The city officials will attend the funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Temple Emanuel on Abel street.

At the meeting of the common council Monday evening Alderman Haines offered the following resolution which was seconded by Alderman Radel and unanimously adopted:

"It is with profound sorrow that the members of the common council of the city of Kingston announce the death since its last meeting of Morris Block, mayor of the city of Kingston, a gentleman for whom this body entertained the highest respect and deepest affection.

"He was a good citizen, a proficient public official and a loyal friend. A man of high personal character with lofty ideals of official service and most exemplary habits, courteous and considerate in his dealings. Honorable and upright in his intercourse with his fellow men he was a fine type of the best American citizenship.

"Resolved that the common council enter this memorandum in full upon its minutes and a copy attested by the clerk be forwarded to the members of Mayor Block's family."

Judge VanBuren's Eulogy.

Judge A. H. VanBuren was extended the privilege of the floor and briefly and impressively eulogized the memory of Mayor Block, saying:

"We often hear one man say of another, I knew him very well. No man ever knew another, knew the real man. We are prone to judge a man by what he does or does not do. That is not fair. In order to judge a man correctly, we must know not only what he does or does not do, but the why.

"Therefore when I say I knew Morris Block, I mean that I knew many things he did or did not do in official and public life and the why of his actions. I was corporation counsel during his first two terms as mayor and our relations were close and always pleasant. As mayor he gave the city the best that was in him. His administration of city affairs was honest, fair, impartial and as economical as was consistent with the welfare and improvement of the city. He was a tireless worker to the detriment of his private affairs. He possessed, in large measure, the genius of his race for business and finance and he reaped its benefits.

"He was a Democrat in politics but appointed Republicans to some of the important city offices. He was a skillful and adroit politician, using that word as meaning one who has the ability to originate measures for the betterment of government; mould public opinion and manage men.

"I knew something of the real Morris Block. He was kind, tender, forgiving, considerate of others and for the under dog every time. He was charitable not only with his money, but with that far better charity, the uplifting of the fallen and leading them to a new and better life. He was companionable, jolly, good natured and liked to mingle with his friends in a social way. He was refined and a gentleman to his finger tips. He was clean, not only in his actions, but in his thoughts and words. I never heard him tell an obscene story and he disliked hearing them.

"Morris Block was a Jew and proud of his race. Well might he be, for during all the ages, in spite of the fiercest persecution it is the only race which has preserved its identity, and in every department of human activity at its head stands a Jew or a Jewess.

"He respected Christianity and paid tribute to the purity and transcendent greatness of its founder but remained true to the faith of his fathers who wrote the Holy Book which lies upon every Christian altar.

"I cannot speak of his home life for that belongs to those much closer and nearer to him than any of us.

"To those who have a greater certitude of belief than myself, there may be some consolation in the stories of our loved ones. To me there is none. All we can do is to cherish their memory and emulate their virtues. Morris Block is dead. We shall never more look upon his face or hear his voice. But the deeds of men, whether for good or for evil do not die with them. They are immortal and to a greater or less extent influence the generations to come. The memory of Morris Block will live at least some future in the years which are to come. Morris Block had his faults and his failings. Who among us has not? But, whatever they may have been, when the lid of the casket is fastened down over the dead, we have forgotten them and strengthen them forever.

Mayor Dempsey Can Serve in Dual Capacity

There Is No Provision in Law to Prohibit Him Serving the City Both as Mayor and as President of the Common Council.

The question has been raised as to whether Mayor E. J. Dempsey can serve the city in the dual capacity of mayor and president of the common council. Under the provisions of the city charter it is the opinion of several prominent lawyers that there is no question but that he can do so.

There is no provision in law that prohibits a mayor from also serving as president of the common council, and there is no doubt but that Mayor Dempsey will continue to do so and serve the city.

It is also stated that in case the chair of president of the common council was vacated that a presiding officer could be elected by the common council from its membership.

One Ohio Convict Still at Large

Twelve Others Are Back in Ohio Penitentiary After Fleeing Prison Now Seriously Wounded in Battle With Officials.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 9 (AP).—Only one of the 13 convicts who made a break for liberty at the Ohio penitentiary yesterday remained at large today. An all night search failed to reveal the hiding place of the lone fugitive, Oliver Glaspy, sentenced to a twenty year term for criminal assault.

The other 12 were returned to the prison last night, several bearing bullet wounds sustained in their fight with prison officials as they fled and later with police officers when they were captured. None is seriously injured. The prison officials wounded, also will recover.

Seizing their opportunity when visitors were being let in, the thirteen men, all desperate prison characters, several of them life termers, pushed their way into the guard room. After stabbing Guard Elmer Callahan in the arm, seized revolvers in the room, clubbed the guards, and broke through to the outer gate.

They fled out the front entrance in the face of gun fire. One of the convicts, Harold Nierengartner, was brought down, shot in the head and arm. Another, Thomas Gerak, was captured. Eight of the men fled to the street, forced a woman out of her automobile and started west in the car. Another, James Johnson, Cleveland, seized another car and followed his companions.

Three Columbus motorcycle policemen started in pursuit of the men while London police started out to meet them.

As the convict car neared London, the driver was confronted by the London police car parked across the road. He took to the ditch and the eight convicts jumped from the machine and ran into the cornfield at the side of the road, dividing into two groups.

A detachment of Columbus police arrived shortly and a hunt started. One of the groups resisted for some time before surrendering but none of the officers was hurt.

While the hunt was taking place, Johnson drove up to the scene and surrendered.

The nine men were bundled into a police patrol and taken back to prison under escort of forty guards. Late last night William Smith, the twelfth convict, gave himself up at a barber shop in Columbus city limits.

Injured When Car Overturns

Alfred Wardwell was slightly injured today when the Willys-Knight sedan he was driving skidded on the Plank Road and turned over late the swamp near the Plank Road House. Miss Wardwell, who lives at Woodstock, evidently applied the brakes suddenly and the car skidded and overturned. Wardwell remained in the car and was rescued by a passerby who took him to a nearby garage.

Young Wise Is Freed of Murder

Crowd Applauds Verdict Acquitting Charles Wise of the Murder Last July of Nina Vilona, Mount Vernon Pianist.

Monticello, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP).—Charles Wise, 16 year old Brooklyn charity ward, today gathered up the threads of his quiet life in Sullivan county, severed abruptly last summer with his arrest on a charge of murder.

After deliberating more than three hours, a jury last night acquitted the boy of the murder last July of Nina Vilona, 55-year-old Mount Vernon pianist. Miss Vilona's body, a bullet wound in the head and a gash in the forehead, was found beneath a pile of stones beside the Neversink river, and the boy was arrested a week later.

The state's case against the lad was based largely on circumstantial evidence. District Attorney Foster sought to prove that the boy's cheap revolver fired the bullet which was taken from the pianist's head, and testimony of firearms experts, appearing for the prosecution, supported his claim. The defense countered with the testimony of another expert, who asserted as strongly that the bullet could not have been fired from the gun which the boy declared had never killed a living thing. In addition, the woman with whom the boy boarded at Hitter Sweet said the gun had been hidden away in her home for days before and after the murder.

The verdict was a popular one. All day yesterday the court room was crowded with defense in prosecution summed up their case and County Judge Smith delivered his charge. When the acquittal was announced, the crowd which waited to hear the result of the deliberations applauded and the judge had to call for order.

Brooks Wants New Faces in Jury Box

Attorney Objects to Summoning Talcott for Attendance in Court—Wants Additional Jurors Drawn From County Jury Box—Six Defendants Arraigned.

There were six defendants arraigned in county court Monday afternoon before County Judge Joseph M. Fowler. All entered pleas of not guilty and in all cases except one bail was supplied.

Ellsworth Dixon, charged with grand larceny, first degree, was represented by Robert G. Groves. He entered a plea of guilty and bail was continued.

Martin F. Schoonmaker, charged with abandoning his children on December 1, 1925, at the town of Lloyd, was unable to provide bail after he had entered a plea of guilty. He also said he had no funds to employ counsel and the court assigned Charles De La Vergne to defend him.

Chris Muller, charged under a new provision of the law which makes the serious injury to a person while operating a motor vehicle in an intoxicated condition a misdemeanor, entered a plea of not guilty. Muller is charged with having injured W. W. Van Keuren of the Saugerties road. Mr. Muller, it is alleged, was intoxicated and drove his car off the road in the town of Ulster and struck Mr. Van Keuren who was injured about the leg. Frank W. Brooks appeared for Muller and had bail fixed at $500.

Corla I. White, charged with bigamy, alleged to have been committed at the town of Lloyd on November 2, 1925, entered a plea of not guilty and bail was fixed. Frank W. Brooks appeared for her.

John Currie and Frank Currie, charged with assault, second degree, at the town of Lloyd on September 3, last, were represented by A. W. Lent and entered a plea of not guilty. Bail was continued.

Rosario Abato of R. F. D. 4, Kingston, entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Abato was arrested by Officers Harman and Barker on April 25, 1926, in the city of Kingston. When arraigned in city court next day he started the court by asking for an adjournment of the matter for a year. The court adjourned the case for two days and at that time held the defendant for the grand jury. When arraigned Monday afternoon he was represented by N. H. Fessenden. Bail was fixed and supplied.

Brooks Objects to Talcott.

Before court adjourned Frank W. Brooks addressed the court and stated that he wished to object formally to the order of the court made at the morning session when the sheriff was directed to summon 15 talcott for attendance at criminal trial work Wednesday morning. Mr. Brooks stated that he wished in all seriousness to object to the summoning of talcott for criminal work in cases where he was engaged as attorney. He asked that the court draw the additional jurors necessary from the county jury box so that there would be "new faces" instead of the usual talcott.

The court directed that the clerk and stenographer make a note of the objection of Mr. Brooks and reported the objection.

Tuesday Supper.

Wednesday evening, November 10, a turkey supper will be served at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church from 5 until 8 o'clock.

Mussolini Sends Regrets for Anti-French Incidents

Situation Between Paris and Rome Involving Anti-Fascist Activities on the Riviera and the Catalan Plot Is Visibly Eased.

Paris, Nov. 9 (AP).—Formal written expressions of regret for the anti-French incidents at Ventimiglia and Benghazi were handed to the French ambassador in Rome today by Premier Mussolini in the form of an "aide memoire."

The French foreign office announces, that in view of this action and the satisfactory nature of Foreign Minister Briand's talk with the Italian ambassador in Paris yesterday, the government considers the incidents "closed."

This visibly eases the situation between Paris and Rome, as the Ricciotti Garibaldi affair, involving anti-Fascist activities on the Riviera and the participation of Italians in the recent unsuccessful Catalan plot on French soil, are considered purely police matters.

Mussolini's action in giving a written declaration to Ambassador Bernard was largely spontaneous, the French government having refrained from making any pressing demands in connection with the anti-French incidents.

M. Bernard called on the Italian under secretary of foreign affairs yesterday in reference to reorganization of police arrangements at Ventimiglia, which is a railway station town on the Italo-French border.

The incidents at that place and at Benghazi, in Tripoli, closely followed upon the attempted assassination of Mussolini a week ago Sunday at Bologna.

At Ventimiglia French railway employees were beaten by Fascists, who resented the Frenchmen's failure to uncover during the playing of the Fascist hymn. Later a Fascist crowd staged a demonstration in front of the French consulate, and one man mounted the balcony of the consulate and from it delivered an anti-French speech.

Mussolini told Bernard that he had ordered the authorities at Ventimiglia to set judicial machinery in motion and speed the trial of the man named Cauvin and others who might be responsible for the attack on the consulate.

STENTORIAN "AMEN"

COSTS ISAACSON $20

Fergus Falls, Minn., Nov. 9 (AP).—For saying "Amen" too loudly in church Arthur Isaacson was arrested and fined $20 in municipal court here.

Isaacson attended Union Church in Oak Valley with several other youths. During the sermon they became enthusiastic, interrupting the pastor with loud and frequent "Amen's."

Isaacson pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace. It was pointed out in court that fervency, not volume constituted a proper "Amen."

CIVIL WAR TELEGRAPH OPERATOR DIES AT 81

Chicago, Nov. 9 (AP).—Clarence Gordon Sholes, who as a lad of sixteen was General Sherman's personal telegraph operator on the famous march to the sea, is dead at his home here at the age of 81.

After the Civil War Mr. Sholes became assistant manager at Chicago for the Western Union, and later directed the telegraph service of the Santa Fe railroad. His father was Christopher Latham Sholes, inventor of the typewriter.

JEWISH ORGANIZATIONS TAKE SUTABLE ACTION

A meeting of the various Jewish organizations of the city of Kingston was largely attended Monday night and arrangements were made to attend the funeral of the late Mayor Morris Block in a body. A committee was appointed to adopt suitable resolutions and to send a copy of the same to the bereaved family. The Community Center was ordered to be draped for a period of thirty days. The meeting was closed by the chanting of the memorial prayer by the Rev. S. Schwartz and Morris Clark.

AUDITORIUM TO SHOW RESPECT TO MAYOR BLOCK

Harry Lazarus, president of the Kingston Theatre Corporation, in respect to the memory of Mayor Morris Block, has ordered that the Auditorium Theatre be closed on Wednesday afternoon.

Mayor Adds His Tributes.

James F. Draper in an interview said today that in the death of Morris Block the city of Kingston has lost a great citizen, one who always stood for the best interests of the people, was always genial, honest and trustworthy in all his dealings, and always considered him a true friend.

Red Cross Executive Meeting.

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Union County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held this evening at the Supreme court chambers to take appropriate action on the death of the late Mayor Block, first vice-president of the local Red Cross.

Rare Treat for Kingston Folks

RUTH DRAPER.

Kingston theatre lovers will have a treat on November 23 when Ruth Draper comes to the High School Auditorium under the auspices of the Junior League. Already known as a great artist, one whom Alexander Wolcott calls "the incomparable lady," her reputation has been greatly enhanced by her reception in London this summer. In early June she occupied the stage of a West End theatre for some time and at the end of her stay in London she was commanded to give a performance at Windsor before the king and queen. At present she is at the Selwyn Theatre in New York City with seats sold four weeks in advance. It is impossible to describe her consummate art. To call her a monologist is to convey nothing. Her genius at portraying characters so that everyone in the audience can immediately visualize them is nothing short of marvelous. Those who are desirous of seeing a first-class artist in Kingston should avail themselves of this opportunity.

Minute of Silence Given Pays High Tribute to Mayor

Impressive Moment to Mark Observation of Armistice Night at Armory Ball Thursday—Ball to Be Outstanding Social Event—Some of Its Features.

An impressive moment at the American Legion Victory Ball will arrive at 11 o'clock Thursday night, November 11, when there will be a minute's silence in memory of those who gave their lives that we might live in freedom to celebrate the victory for which they gave themselves.

The armistice which ended the World War became effective at the eleventh hour on the eleventh day of the eleventh month. Therefore, at 11 o'clock at the Victory Ball, a bugler will call everyone in the armory "At Attention." Everyone will rise and stand at attention. The lights will be turned out. One minute of silent prayer will follow. At the expiration of the minute of silence, the bugler will blow taps. Then the lights will come back—on and with the dance.

Everybody Asked to Cooperate.

The cooperation of everyone attending the ball is asked in observing this ceremony which is a part of every American Legion Victory Ball in the country.

The Victory Ball in New York City, sponsored by the leaders of metropolitan society, this year will be one of the outstanding social events of the metropolis.

Our own Victory Ball in the Kingston armory on Thursday evening will also be the social event of the season.

Since it is the first important affair of the year, and with all the attractions that are in store for those who attend, it is expected that it will be a huge success. Advance ticket sales have been made to patrons of dance and music in Saugerties, Poughkeepsie, Woodstock, Fleischmanns, Stone Ridge, New Paltz and Highland.

Some Entertaining Features.

The Ipano Troubadours, the stars of the ten broadcasting stations in the WPAF chain, will furnish symphonic dance music the like of which has never been heard before in Kingston, except over the air. This popular orchestra gets more applause mail than any other entertainers broadcasting over WPAF. Then, the concert from 8 to 9 of high-class dancing, singing and musical numbers will be sure to please the large audience which is planning to arrive early so as not to miss any part of this great entertainment.

All tickets point to one of the finest, biggest, most sparkling, like ever given in Kingston, with every detail of entertainment, service, decorations, refreshments, supplied by the best obtainable. The Victory Ball committee of the American Legion desires commendation for the high manner in which it is conducting the ball which has been planned.

Proceeds for Warth Cause.

The proceeds of the ball will be used for the benefit of the warth cause, and the families of the men who have died in the war.

Mayor's Body to Lie in State At City Hall

Public to Have Opportunity to Pay Last Tribute of Respect Until Nine o'clock Tonight—Police and Firemen to Act as Guard of Honor—Funeral on Wednesday.

The body of Mayor Morris Block will lie in state in the city hall this evening from 5 to 9 o'clock where the public will be given the opportunity to pay a last tribute of respect. The body will repose in the main corridor on the second floor of the city hall, and a detail of police and members of the paid fire department will act as a guard of honor.

This afternoon Superintendent W. Scott Van Kenren of the board of public works and six employees of the board acting as bearers, will remove the body of the mayor from his home on Spring street to the hearse where a detail of police will act as an escort to convey the funeral cortege to the city hall.

The city authorities have arranged that the public enter the city hall this evening through the main entrance to the building and passing the tier leave the building by the stairway leading to the lower floor. This will avoid confusion and congestion.

After 9 o'clock this evening the body will again be escorted by a detail of police to the late residence on Spring street.

Funeral services will be held from Temple Emanuel on Abel street on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in the family plot in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

During the hour of the funeral services Wednesday afternoon the fire bell will toll.

W. P. Capes, executive secretary of the New York State Mayors' Conference, will represent the president of the conference at the funeral services Wednesday afternoon.

State Chairman of United Jewish Campaign Says Stand of Mayor Block Had Much to Do With Success of Campaign in Other Communities.

Syracuse, Nov. 9.—Glowing tribute to the memory of Mayor Morris Block was paid here today by Bernard B. Given, state chairman of the United Jewish Campaign.

"The death of Mayor Block is a great shock to me personally as I have come to regard him very highly," Mr. Given said. "He was one of the noblest men I have ever met, and I will cherish my associations with him forever."

The state campaign chairman became acquainted with the late Mayor last summer during the United Jewish appeal to raise Kingston's quota for relief of the stricken Jews of Eastern Europe. Mayor Block was honorary chairman of the Kingston campaign organization and his active cooperation contributed largely to the success of the campaign. The stand of the late executive on the effort to raise money to relieve suffering of the Jewish people of Europe had much to do with the success in campaigns in other communities.

"The late mayor," Mr. Given declared, "will long be remembered for his many qualities. As a public official he was an example of honesty and uprightness in public office. And that is illustrated by the confidence expressed in him by the people of Kingston, who re-elected him to the highest office many times. But not for that alone was Mayor Block distinguished. He was as scrupulous in private life as he was in public office and his humane qualities were apparent by his sincere response to every worthy cause."

"Mayor Block's death is a great loss to the community that was loyal to him. It is a great loss to his many personal friends in every city of the state, and to me personally it is a great sorrow," Mr. Given said. Mr. Given was informed about the mayor's death Monday as he was preparing to write him a letter to cheer him in his illness.

Coolidge Will Visit Kansas City

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP).—President Coolidge will leave tonight with a special train and will arrive in Kansas City at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. He will make a short stop at the Hotel Armour and will leave for St. Louis at 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Five years ago when he was vice president, Mr. Coolidge was at the hotel in Kansas City at the time of the assassination of President McKinley. He was with the president when he was shot.

Mr. Coolidge will be accompanied by his wife and daughter, and will be met by the mayor of Kansas City, Mr. J. W. McGowan.

Mr. Coolidge will be in Kansas City for a short time, and will leave for St. Louis at 10 o'clock Sunday night.

American People Will Lend Billion Dollars in 1926

American Loans to the World Now Exceed Ten Billions—France Is Expected to Come Into American Market for Large Sums.

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—The great strides which Wall Street, financial heart of the United States, has made in supplanting London as the world's money lender were measured today in an estimate by bankers here that well over one billion dollars in gold will be lent to foreign borrowers in 1926 by the American people.

This golden stream which once seeped principally from sources along the Atlantic seaboard now flows in large volume from the reservoir of savings in the great midwest and Pacific coast.

Out of this vast sum Europe will fashion a financial crucible to support the final work of restoration from the World War. American loans to the world are now said to exceed $10,000,000,000 and it is this pecuniary interest that is fast giving the people of the United States what bankers call the international mind. Nearly $4,000,000,000 has been lent in alien lands in the last three years.

France is expected to come into the American money market early next year for large sums to aid in pegging the franc at some undetermined stabilization point and to replenish working capital for her industries, and bankers are trying to forecast the amount of France's new borrowings. The total may reach several hundred million dollars of which probably a third will be for governmental purposes and the rest for corporations.

France will not be permitted to borrow here until the debt agreement has been ratified by the French Chamber of Deputies, but the echoes of that last roll call will hardly have died away when Wall Street believes there will be offerings of French loans here.

The Morgan syndicate that floated the recent Belgian stabilization loan of $50,000,000 will it is anticipated, handle the major financing of the French Republic. The ground work for these loans has already been surveyed.

The recent sharp rise in French government dollar bonds is said to be something of a window dressing operation for the floating of future loans. Banks, insurance companies, and the investing class are the purchasers of these foreign securities, the interest of which is yearly rising volume. Dealings in these securities on the New York Stock Exchange have reached a daily total of $7,000,000. Wall street banks and allied institutions in all parts of the United States have made millions in the marketing of foreign bonds. The margin in this profitable business, however is diminishing. Borrowing nations of Europe have had to pay a stiff toll for money accommodation, for the American public had to be educated to purchase this class of securities.

STATE CONVENTION OF FEDERATED WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP).—The state convention of Federated Women's Clubs opened in the Spanish ballroom at the Adlington Hotel this morning. Mrs. Charles M. Dickinson of this city, state president, presiding.

Following assembly singing "America the Beautiful," led by Harold Albert, a salute to the flag was led by Mrs. Henrietta Dickinson Stowe, and a welcome address by Mrs. Jeanette B. Sherwood, chairman of the sixth district. Mrs. Mary Garrett Hay of New York made a response to the welcome and the business session opened with a report from the committee on credentials.

BABY BOY IS FOUND ABANDONED ON DOORSTEP.

Hornell, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP).—A two-year old baby boy was abandoned on the doorstep of the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey in Wallace, near here, and today the authorities on Steuben county have been asked to investigate. The child was left in an open salt case and clad only in a pair of rompers and stockings. A note pinned to his chest said he was two years old on October 4th.

Preserved Arm in Fall.

John Johnson, age 25 years, died from a shot Sunday, severely injured himself. He was brought to the office of Dr. H. P. Van Wageningen, 17 John street, where an X-ray examination showed a fracture of the arm at the elbow and a shoulder injury. The injuries were attended to by Dr. Van Wageningen.

Mayor Dempsey Took Oath.

Edward J. Dempsey, who succeeds to the office of mayor owing to the death of Mayor Morris Block, took the constitutional oath of office before County Clerk John H. Saye Monday morning.

Business Certificate Filed.

Charles H. Clark, 48 John street, has certified to the State county clerk that he is conducting a business in Kingston under the name and style, "Modern Dental Laboratory."

Gardiner Woman Wins First Prize

Mrs. Louis LeFever Wins $50 Prize in State-wide Contest Conducted by State Home Bureau Federation.

Mrs. Louis LeFever of the Gardiner Home Bureau unit was notified this morning that she had won the state-wide contest, conducted by the New York State Home Bureau Federation for a plan for kitchen improvement, and left on the 11 o'clock West Shore railroad train for Syracuse where she will attend the state federation banquet and be awarded first prize, which is $50.

Mrs. LeFever won first prize in Ulster county and was awarded a fireless cooker. Her letter outlining the best plan for a kitchen became eligible for entry in the state-wide contest. The announcement of the judges in the state contest was made public this morning.

More than twenty counties in the state submitted letters in the contest, the letters submitted being the prize winning letters in each of the counties that participated in the contest.

The state-wide contest was held under the auspices of the State Federation of Home Bureaus, and was inaugurated for the purpose of bringing out the best ideas among Home Bureau members for lightening the housewife's work in the kitchen.

Rumanian Queen Demands Peace

Remaining Members of the Parties of Samuel Hill, Host to the Queen on Her Far Western Trip Will Quit Train With Queen's Consent.

Queen Marie's Train en Route to Denver, Colo., Nov. 9 (P).—Renewed efforts towards peace and harmony at the demand of Queen Marie herself were made aboard her train today as it traveled across Wyoming.

Although she has declined steadfastly to take any public part in controversies and bickerings between factions aboard her train, it was understood today that it is with her consent that remaining members of the parties of Samuel Hill, millionaire, who was host to Marie on her far western trip, are to quit the train during the next few days.

They are Miss Lois Fuller, wartime friend of Marie; her press agent, Miss May Birkhead, and her secretary, Miss Gabrielle Bloch. Miss Birkhead, who became ill yesterday after a series of conferences with Colonel John H. Carroll, concerning her activities on the train, probably will be placed in a Denver hospital.

Miss Fuller and her secretary are expected by Rumanian members of the party to leave at Chicago, although Colonel Carroll, in announcing that Miss Fuller was now his guest instead of the guest of Queen Marie, said she could stay on the train as long as she desired.

In agreeing to the departure of Miss Fuller and her assistants, Queen Marie is said to have believed that troubles aboard her train began when the Hill party joined the entourage at Spokane.

Cornell Host to Visit Bier

The members of Cornell Hose Company, No. 2, will meet at the fire house this evening at 7:30 in order to proceed to the city hall and pay their last respects to their departed brother, Mayor Morris Block. The regular business meeting of the organization has been postponed out of respect to Mayor Block.

Resolutions

Whereas, Almighty God our Creator has seen fit to call from his sphere of usefulness our beloved mayor, Morris Block, and

Whereas, knowing as we do the many kind and considerate acts which characterized his life, and

Whereas, the entire community has suffered the loss of a citizen whose absence is an irreparable one, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Board of Electrical Examiners, City of Kingston, hereby extend to the bereaved family our sincerest expression of sympathy and that this resolution be made a part of our records.

James Mills, husband of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, one of the victims in the Hall-Mills murder, told his story, believed harmful to the defense of Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall, widow of Rev. Edward Hall, and two relatives, all accused of the crime. He is shown testifying at the trial at Somerville, N. J.

Cold Wave Sweeps Southwest States Proposed Tax Cut

Three Inch Snowfall in Western and Southern Kansas Ties Up Trains—Temperature Dropping in Missouri and Arkansas.

Kansas City, Nov. 9 (P).—A cold wave accompanied by rain, sleet and snow flurries, today moved into the central Mississippi valley region from the southwest states where generally clear skies prevailed after two days of unsettled weather.

Originating in Canada, the storm swept western Montana and the Dakotas and settled over Nebraska and Kansas, where shifting winds yesterday sent low clouds over Missouri, Oklahoma and northern Texas.

Temperatures were dropping early today in eastern Missouri and northern Arkansas, changing a drizzling rain to sleet at some points.

Although the storm caused only slight damage in Kansas and Oklahoma, a three inch snowfall in western and southern Kansas yesterday delayed trains. Snow plows were sent to Minneapolis, Kansas, to release two transcontinental trains on the Rock Island which were reported stalled in deep cuts. The Santa Fe and Union Pacific lines also had trouble in southern Dakota, but all railroads reported normal schedules this morning.

Predict Colder Weather in East

Washington, Nov. 9 (P).—Much colder weather in the east must be looked for in the next 36 hours.

A disturbance moving northwestward to the lower St. Lawrence valley will bring snow flurries tonight in the upper Ohio valley and the lower Lake region if the weather bureau's prediction holds good.

In the wake of the disturbance the thermometer will drop decidedly in all sections between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic coast.

ARMISTICE DAY SUPPER AT WOODSTOCK CHURCH

The ladies of the Reformed Church of Woodstock will serve a hot roast beef supper in the basement of the Reformed Church of Woodstock on Thursday evening, November 11, beginning at 6 o'clock.

This is an innovation in the program of the church. For years it has been the custom of the ladies to serve a Thanksgiving supper on Thanksgiving night. This will not be served this year, but in its place this Armistice Day supper will be served.

No one who has ever eaten a meal prepared by the ladies of Woodstock needs to be told to sit down at the table to enjoy this Armistice Day supper. It is a well known fact that such an event that those at the end find that the most tasty dishes have been entirely disposed of by those who were fortunate enough to sit down with the early comers.

Says He Will Support Governor Smith For Nomination For the Presidency, Vane and Smith Will Be Unseated and Congress Cannot Ignore Wet Mandate.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 9 (P).—Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, in an interview here today, criticized President Coolidge's advocacy of an additional and immediate 12 per cent tax refund at this time is nothing less than a smokescreen thrown up," he declared, "to divert public attention from the overwhelming defeat suffered nationally by the Republican party at the polls last Tuesday."

The New York state senator also announced himself as an unqualified supporter of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1928; declared that Senators-elect Vane of Pennsylvania and Smith of Illinois would never be seated in the senate; and asserted that the result of the wet and dry referendum "was a mandate to congress which congress cannot ignore."

"Bill's" Relatives Hold Reunion

Simultaneously with an effort by William H. Anderson, former head of the Anti-Saloon League, to secure the release from Sing Sing of "Bad Bill" Monroe, relatives of Orange county's most celebrated "bad man" held a reunion in New Windsor on Sunday which came to dramatic climax amid the firing of guns and throwing of rocks.

At the close of the affair, "Pete" Thompson, an Italian living in the vicinity, was lying with a charge of shot in his back, the windows of the house were all broken in, and the occupants claimed to have been forced to take shelter under the beds to escape from a fusillade of shot fired through the windows.

Fred Barrett, a nephew of "Bad Bill," was finally held to await the action of the grand jury by Justice of the Peace Harry Jett.

"Bad Bill" Monroe is also known as the Ulster county bad man.

Shot His Black Bear

Hills Fairbairn of Seager, N. Y., while hunting in the mountains back of the village last Wednesday shot a black bear which when dressed weighed 290 pounds. Mr. Fairbairn passed through town this morning with the bear strapped to the running board of his car. The bear attracted a great deal of attention while the car was parked on Fair street.

GIVE her "TIME," for THANKSGIVING

That's exactly what you do when you give her a New Hoover. No other gift you could possibly plan, will give her so much freedom—so much cause to be thankful.

In this amazing machine, and in it alone, is embodied the revolutionary principle of POSITIVE AGITATION—the necessary, third process in rug cleaning—loosening the ground-in grit, so that suction and sweeping may dispose of it.

Positive Agitation enables this New Hoover to remove more than twice as much dirt from a rug, in the ordinary cleaning time, as even former Hoovers.

May we call and clean a rug for you? Just telephone—no obligation.

Testimony Today In Hall Case

Court House, Somerville, N. J., Nov. 9 (P).—Testimony of Joseph A. Faurot, a New York fingerprint expert, and Edward Schwartz of Newark, appearing as fingerprint man and surveyor, occupied the morning session in the Hall-Mills case.

Schwartz was permitted to testify, over objection of defense counsel, that in making a survey of the scene of murder he saw what appeared to be hoof prints near where Mrs. Jane Gibson said she tied her mule.

Faurot, under cross-examination, devoted much of his testimony to a detailing of his experience "over twenty odd years in the New York police department."

APPRECIATION OF MAYOR'S SERVICES TO CHURCH

"Resolved, that the board of trustees and pastor of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church, at a special meeting called, do hereby express in behalf of this congregation our deepest sympathy to the bereaved widow and family in the irreparable loss of the Hon. Morris Block, mayor of the city of Kingston, who was a sincere friend of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Church and acting chairman of its building committee, and whose unblemished spirit has won the heart of this church. We mourn his loss. Therefore be it resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the city press and a copy be sent to the bereaved widow."

GIRLS AND TUBERCULOSIS.

Young girls in the metropolis are dying of tuberculosis at a greatly increased rate, according to the report of the New York Tuberculosis Association, although in other groups, both men and women, a decline in the disease as well as in the death rate is shown. It is stated that among girls from 15 to 19 the tubercular death rate is 237 in every 100,000, and among girls from 20 to 24 it is as high as 370. Why are the victims so much more numerous among these two groups of girls than among other groups, male or female? Are they of all the groups the most neglectful of precautions for the preservation of health? Rather unexpectedly, in her analysis of the figures, Dr. M. Alice Anderson of the Association lays particular stress on the desire of the young women of the day to be very slender.

One had supposed that this desire became urgent only later on in years and that the average young girl would not be likely to "deny herself nourishing food" merely because of "a dread of gaining weight." It was supposed that office and factory girls would be much more likely to do this in order to buy a pretty frock and extra fine silk stockings. Certainly no few of them can be seen eating heartily enough, with no signs of fear of getting fat, when a young or not so young "gentleman friend" is paying for the dinner. Dr. Anderson does mention other causes of ill nourishment than the fear of fat, such as clothes and good times to be paid for out of small salaries. But, strange to say, in the summary of her discussion at hand there is no mention of cold legs in winter with nothing to cover them but the thinnest silk stockings, which is widely supposed to be as harmful as undernourishment for the tubercularly inclined.

APPEAL TO MOTORISTS.

It is well known that college boys, hiking across the country for health or pleasure, ask "lifts" of motorists and get them. It is also known that girls in great towns are often offered and accept rides into the country from strange men who have no good purpose in view. But perhaps a good many of us are not so well aware that large numbers of city children are now in the habit of asking for "lifts" and run recklessly into the traffic in order to accept favors which motorists are too good natured to deny, forgetting not only the dangers braved by the eager youngsters but their own acceptance of a responsibility of which they may repent. The American Automobile Association has begun a nationwide campaign against the practice of giving children lifts, asks the cooperation of motorists as well as of parents and teachers, and describes the inevitable hazards in part as follows:

It is a common sight to see youngsters forcing their way through on-rushing traffic if they see what looks like a good chance to get a ride. They not only endanger themselves but interfere with the flow of traffic in a manner that is distinctly menacing. Motorists continually are forced to swerve quickly from one traffic lane to another, and frequently they have no time to give signals, one of the commonest causes of accidents. Moreover, the driver who stops to pick up a youngster renders himself liable for anything that may happen to his suddenly acquired ward during the ride. Children thus picked up are often careless or unruly, and the best faces the doubly hard task of trying to drive and at the same time keep a weather eye on his passenger. The situation makes for accidents, and the motorist is liable.

PROSPERITY'S AUTHORSHIP.

When a political leader somewhat forcibly or ignoring the fact that an election is near, lets partisanship slip out of sight, and says just what he thinks, he may become more interesting than usual. In such a moment of freedom, just a week before the election, President Coolidge sold to the American Association of Advertising Agencies:

The pre-eminence of American industry has come very largely through mass production. Mass production is only possible where there is a mass demand. Mass demand has been created almost entirely through the development of advertising.

Not a word about prosperity as the gracious gift of a single political party; not a hint that the policies of that party result in soil fertility, plentiful rains and good crops; no timely warning that if the opposition party should triumph everything would go to smash. But just a simple statement implying that prosperity is mainly dependent on well directed industry and enlightened exploitation of good products from the mills, shops, factories and farms. Such talk during a campaign is as unusual as it is refreshing.

Nor is it a denial of political influence on prosperity, for without governmental safeguarding and with governmental meddling, competition or restriction, conditions that make prosperity possible through industry and proper business methods would not exist. So, in a measure, prosperity rests on politics after all. Had government can destroy, just as surely as good government can safeguard, the opportunities of the people.

CAUSE OF SORE EYES.

Eye specialists tell us that a great deal of the eye troubles with which they come in contact are really not due to eye strain, or to poorly fitting glasses.

Irrespective of the best possible care of the eyes themselves, and the adjustment of glasses which bring normal vision, the eyes continue to give pain, and often become red and sore. Sometimes a cold in the head remains very persistent, and the eyes seem to share in the distress.

Dr. Barton of New Orleans in speaking about sore painful eyes and the cause thereof, brings out a most striking point.

He states that the body is simply a chemical laboratory. Every tissue (bone, muscle, nerve) is constantly taking out of the blood stream the substances it needs and throwing back the matters—valuable or waste products—into the blood again. Life depends upon the exact performance of this exchange, from and to, the blood.

Now all these workings can be thrown out of order by something that is done in an improper manner in some part of the body, or from incorrect methods of living.

He points out further that notwithstanding the foolish or incorrect things we do, we seem to get along pretty well, provided that the organs that get rid of the poisonous waste products, that is the lungs, kidneys, intestine and skin, keep in fair running order.

He states that the eye conditions mentioned above are due in many cases to poisoning from the stomach and intestine, really from constipation. The blood carries these impurities to the eyes and those delicate cells had to use some of this material in their make up.

Acute cases of sore eyes were cleared up by the old fashioned calomel and salts, and old standing cases by correcting the eating habits and curing the constipation.

Other organs, in fact all organs, can be affected by this waste poison from intestine.

So make sure that there is no sluggishness nor constipation present before you consult your physician or an eye specialist for "sore eyes."

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederick A. Godcharles.

Chauncey James British Fleet and Controlled Lake Ontario in Fight Which Began November 9, 1812.

At the outbreak of the second war with Great Britain Captain Isaac Chauncey was in command of the New York Navy Yard, a position he had filled with marked ability since April, 1806. Soon after the war commenced Captain Chauncey was commissioned commander-in-chief of the navy on all the lakes except Champlain, and entered on his duties at Sacket Harbor October 6, 1812.

With the help of Henry Eckford, an eminent ship-builder, he immediately began building a squadron for Lake Ontario. From that time until the close of the war vessels were built and equipped with unequalled rapidity.

At the beginning of his service there the only naval vessel on Lake Ontario was the small sloop of war "Onondaga." Before Chauncey's arrival, Lieutenant Woolsey had captured the schooner "Julia" and had purchased six other schooners.

With these eight vessels, Chauncey sailed from Sacket Harbor on November 8, 1812, to intercept the British squadron, under Commodore Earl, returning to Kingston from Fort George, on the Niagara River, whither they had conveyed troops and prisoners. The British force was much stronger than the American, but was badly officered and manned.

Chauncey took his station near the False Ducks, a group of islands nearly due west from Sacket Harbor.

On the afternoon of November 9 he fell in with Earl's flag-ship, the "Royal George." He chased her into the Bay of Quinte, where he lost sight of her in the darkness of the night.

On the following morning Chauncey captured and burned a small armed schooner, and soon after espied the "Royal George" making her way toward Kingston. He gave chase with most of his squadron, and followed her into Kingston harbor, where he fought her and five land-batteries for almost an hour.

These batteries were more formidable than Chauncey supposed, and, taking advantage of a brisk breeze and approaching night, he withdrew and anchored.

The next morning the breeze had become a gale, so Chauncey weighed anchor and stood out lakeward.

Three of his squadron, the "Governor Tompkins," Lieutenant Brown, the "Hamilton," Lieutenant McPherson, and "Julia," Sailing Master Trant, chased the British vessel "Simcoe" over a reef of rocks and riddled her so that she sank before she was able to reach Kingston.

Soon afterwards the "Hamilton" captured a large schooner from Niagara. This prize was sent past Kingston with the American "Growler," with a hope of drawing out the "Royal George," but Chauncey had no bruised her that she was compelled to haul on shore to keep from sinking. A number of her crew had been killed in the fight.

The gale continued two nights and during the night of the 12th there was a snow storm. Undismayed by the fury of the elements, Chauncey continued his cruise, for his heart was set on gaining the supremacy of the lakes.

Sighting the "Earl of Moira" off Real Duck Islands, he attempted to capture her. She escaped, but a schooner she was conveying was made captive. On the same day Chauncey saw the "Royal George" and two other armed vessels, but they kept out of his way.

In this short cruise he captured three merchant-vessels, destroyed one armed schooner, disabled the British flag-ship and took several prisoners, with a loss of only one man killed and four wounded.

Although Chauncey could not capture the Canadians, he obtained virtual control of the lake for the time.

Meanwhile the construction of new vessels was actively pushed. The "Mohawk," a 42-gun frigate, was launched in thirty-four days after her keel was laid, the corvette "Madison" was launched in nine weeks, and the "General Pike," by far the largest vessel on the lake, was begun.

Chauncey cooperated with the land forces under General Pike in April, 1813, in capturing York (now Toronto), and on May 27, in the capture of Fort George, which caused the evacuation of the entire Niagara frontier.

On September 27, Chauncey attacked and put to flight, in York Bay, the British fleet under Sir James Yeo, whom he had hitherto been unable to bring to action. On October 2 he captured six vessels, with part of a regiment of soldiers. In August and September, 1814, he blockaded Sir James Yeo's fleet for six weeks.

The efficient cooperation on the water enabled a more determined offensive on land, which met with greater success than any before undertaken.

At the close of the war Commodore Chauncey resumed command of the New York Navy Yard.

Public Works Board.

The board of public works in special session adopted the following resolution:

"The board of public works of the city of Kingston having learned with profound sorrow of the death of Hon. Morris Block, mayor of said city,

"Resolved, that as a token of honor and respect to our late mayor, whose many virtues were exemplified in both public and private life, who was four times elected mayor of the city of Kingston and at the time of his death was president of this board, the members of this board attend the funeral in a body.

"Resolved, that the secretary of the board of public works record this resolution in full upon the minutes and transmit a copy of the same to the afflicted family of the deceased.

"Resolved, that as a further mark of respect this board do now adjourn."

Health Board.

The board of health in special session adopted the following resolution:

"The board of health of the city of Kingston, having heard with profound sorrow of the death of Hon. Morris Block, mayor of said city and president of this board,

"Resolved, that as a token of honor to the late mayor's many virtues both public and private, and a mark of respect to his memory, the members of this board attend his funeral in a body.

"Resolved, that the secretary of this board record in full this resolution upon the minutes and transmit a copy of the same to the afflicted family of the deceased.

"Resolved, that as a further mark of respect this board do now adjourn."

Fire Board.

The board of fire commissioners held a special meeting Monday evening and adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call from this life and his many activities our beloved Mayor Morris Block,

"Whereas, we are duly mindful of the various acts of charity and other duties in connection with city affairs which characterized his daily life, and

"Whereas, the board of fire commissioners as well as the entire community has suffered an irreparable loss in his passing, therefore be it

"Resolved, That the members of the board of fire commissioners of the city of Kingston hereby extend to the bereaved family their expressions of sincere sympathy and that this resolution be made a part of our records."

Flashes of Life

A special meeting of the examining board of plumbers was held Monday evening, at which the following resolution was adopted:

"The Great Creator having been pleased out of His infinite mercy, has again sent the inevitable summons which must come to us all some time, and we know not how soon this may be, and taken from our midst our beloved mayor. But such is life and such is death. We are like the morning, the sunshine of smiling faces beams upon us in helpless infancy and we pass like the evening in the mellow twilight of friendship's last adieu into the deepening shadows of earth's last night."

Board of Education.

A special meeting of the board of education was held Monday evening to take suitable action concerning the death of Mayor Block.

President Flemming appointed Trustees Beeres, Betz, Hayes, Katz and Thompson a committee on resolutions, upon whose report the following memorial was adopted:

"The board of education in meeting assembled, expresses its profound sorrow and sense of loss in the death of Morris Block, late mayor of the city of Kingston. He was a courteous gentleman, a genial friend, a man of sterling character and high purpose whose public services have been conscientiously and wisely rendered. He placed the welfare of the city before self and worked wholeheartedly for the happiness and prosperity of his fellow citizens. We mourn his loss and tender his family our sincere sympathy in this hour of their bereavement."

It was regularly moved, seconded and carried that out of respect to the late mayor, the schools close at noon on Wednesday, the day of his funeral.

The meeting then adjourned.

Alms Board.

A special meeting of the board of alms commissioners was held Monday evening at which the following resolution was adopted:

"With deep sorrow we view the dispensation of a Divine Providence, in the death of Morris Block, mayor of our city. A man of high ideals, an indefatigable worker, ever seeking to advance the welfare of the city and those with whom he came in contact, a kindly, lovable nature, he made friends easily, and retained them; of splendid business ability, keen vision, an able executive, a wise counsellor.

"Whereas, we, the members of the alms board, assembled in special session, do hereby record our appreciation of his counsel, and profound sorrow at his untimely death. His fidelity to the many tasks committed to him has endeared him to all.

"Be it resolved, that we hereby express our high appreciation of his worth as mayor, and as a citizen, of his unflinching courtesy. That we ex-

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By the Associated Press.)

San Francisco—Tennis Bob Goodwin, who has beaten the record of his Uncle Nat for marriages, is going to do it again with a new twist. Nat married five different ones. Bob has married six, but intends to wed his sixth a second time. Betty Markle forgot that divorce papers involving somebody else before becoming Mrs. Bob. Now an annulment and remarriage are necessary.

New York—Irvin Cobb is back from abroad with a true story of Greek meeting Greek. "I'm an old newspaper man myself," Manoli said. Then Benito proceeded to fire questions. Informed that Irvin was in Europe because he expected to be a grandfather, Benito said he hoped the youngster would grow up to be a blackbird.

Chicago—What price testimonials? From $200 to $300, if the American Medical Association is correct. It says that for such an amount an advertiser may obtain through a syndicate the endorsement of a stage or screen star for his product with a nice photograph in the ad.

New York—Praise for night work on women comes from Mrs. Ella M. Sherman, printer. If it affects the health at all, it improves it and as for the moral risks the male worker is much more decent than he is credited with being. She gave her views to the state industrial survey commission.

Mexico City—This country has its eyes now on winning the Marathon at the next Olympic games. It is planned to enter two Indians who ran 62½ miles in 9 hours, 37 minutes. To compensate them for loss of their cotton crop during a celebration of their feat their own terms have been met plus they stipulated yards of cloth each. Each got a cloth, plough and a crimson handkerchief.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Says an Armistice day proclamation by Governor Pinchot: "Political gangsters, especially in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, are taking from us the very things for which our soldiers have given their blood."

Broaden in Plain Weaves Are Needed as Important by These Beauties from Abroad—All Made-riks Must Be Supple Enough to Drapes Well.

As a great liner docked a few days ago, expressions of opinion on the important style notes in Paris were given. These indicated that metal brocades and chiffon and velvet border materials were the most sensational developments of the month. Georgette bordered with cut velvet, in Roman striped effect, was enthusiastically commented upon, and one is impatient to see this effective fabric. Fine failles, of corded silk, as everyone must know, were also mentioned as a substitute for crepe, which was, however, a firm hold on the affections of the French. Georgette is perhaps the most conspicuous success of the year, this fabric being in universal use alone and in combination with velvet or satin crepe.

Paton's Wine-Color Silk Crepe Shows the Sleeve, Sung from the Elbow Down, Treated with Gold and Silver Stitches, with the Same Decorative Aid Appearing on the Loose Panels.

All materials in use today have one characteristic in common: they must be pliant and yield themselves to the several drapery movements being employed. This is true of metal brocades of any standing, and many really stunning evening models depend on the beauty of their material rather than trimming details. Rumor is rife with more elaborate and impressive things, with emphasis on paillettes and metal fringes, formal and unusual neck-lines, and a graceful arrangement of panels designed to add movement.

Soft tones for evening, offset by black, were mentioned as impressive in summarizing the latest style news. Flea-fish and pale blues are among the delicate tints employed with several watery greens.

College Preparation.

The Best American college University of which there is a record was the "The Hot Club" that appeared at the College of William and Mary in 1792 and continued in existence until after 1912. It was saved, history and credit. The oldest Greek letter fraternity in this country now in existence is the Phi Beta Kappa, organized in 1776.

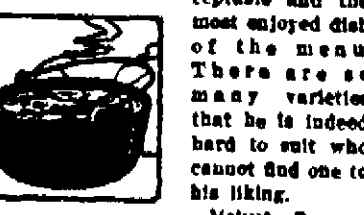

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(A 1926, Western Newspaper Union)

The making of money, the accumulation of material power, is not all there is to living. Life is something more than these two things, and the man who misses this truth misses the greatest joy and satisfaction that can come into his life—that is, from service to others.—Edward Bok.

SOUPS AND GARNISHES

Soup will never grow out of style for food, as it is often the most acceptable and the most enjoyed dish of the menu.

Velvet Soup.—Cook one-half cupful of tapioca in six cupfuls of well-seasoned real stock. When thoroughly cooked add the yolks of three well-beaten eggs, stir until smooth and creamy, season with salt and pepper and a pinch of grated nutmeg. Serve hot with crostons—small squares of buttered bread toasted in the oven.

Scotch Purse.—Put into a kettle one pound of mutton with the broken bones. Cover with three quarts of water and bring to the boiling point. Skim and simmer for one hour. Add six potatoes, two onions, one carrot cut fine and simmer for two hours longer. Season with salt, pepper and butter, after straining and reheating. Serve with crostons.

Vermont Chicken Soup.—Take six cupfuls of well-seasoned chicken stock, add a little grated onion, one head of lettuce shredded and one cupful of cooked peas. Beat an egg, add enough bread crumbs to make a paste and shape into balls. Drop the balls into the soup and simmer until well heated. Serve hot.

Blague of Turnip.—Put a tablespoonful of butter, one sliced onion, three slices of carrot into a saucepan, toss until slightly cooked, then add four good-sized turnips grated. There should be a pint of pulp. Cover the saucepan without adding any water, simmer on the back of the stove for twenty minutes. Add a quart of milk, two tablespoonfuls each of flour and butter well mixed; cook until smooth, add salt, cayenne pepper and a teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet. Strain and serve with small squares of farina.

Rotarians to Show Respect.

President Hathaway of the Kingston Rotary Club suggests that all Rotarians meet him at the Kingston city hall in the lower corridor, at a quarter to six this evening. This meeting is called in order that Rotary as an organization may view the remains of our late mayor, Morris Block, and thus show their respect for the man and the office which he held.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE WAITING CLOTHES

Molly had been quite ill. She had had the most dreadful cold and she had lost her voice, then her throat had been sore, and then her chest had hurt. She had had the strangest sound in her voice. Sometimes it was very deep and again it squeaked and times it just went off into nothing at all.

She had read a Great Deal.

She had been in bed for over a week. And that was unusual. For Molly had hardly ever been known to stay in bed in the daytime.

It had been rare and seldom that Molly had been in bed for any slight illness for more than a day at the most.

Sometimes she had been in bed but half a week. And now it had been for over a week.

She had felt very ill, too, and weak, and when she had stood up her legs had felt as though they didn't care to support her and were as tired as she was.

Then her head had felt dizzy when she had tried getting up, and she had felt hot and cold in such a mixed-up way that she had given in and gone back to bed again.

Some of her friends had sent her flowers and fruit and she had read a great deal.

What in the world would a person do without books? Molly had asked herself, with her own answer following quickly upon her own question.

Why a person would be miserable and oh, so lonely, if it weren't for books.

Then Molly began to feel better. She still felt weak but not nearly so weak as she had.

Then she felt better still and found all sorts of funny things at which to laugh.

She had smiled at things before but she hadn't really laughed, hardly at all.

And then she was told that the next day she could get up for quite a while and the day following, if it was nice, she could go out.

It was now foggy but she had a feeling that Old Nurse Fog would remove herself and her children before the day-after-the-next came.

Oh, the weather would be all right. And then she noticed her clothes hanging up in the closet just as she had left them over a week before. They looked quite funny. There hung her very heaviest pair of woolen stockings, for the next day had promised to be so cold on the night Molly had taken ill.

She had hung up her warm stockings thinking she would be wearing them that following morning.

And there hung her little orange-colored flannel dress just as she had left it. There, too, was her coat, and her muffs, and her funny little soft felt hat.

Her shoes were in the closet, side by side, as all good pairs of shoes should be, and they looked so quiet.

She could hardly believe that they were her shoes. Her shoes were so used to being rouped in, and even little spots of dirt and mud had grown clean looking in their week of quietness and closet-life.

She had quite forgotten about all her clothes, but here they were all waiting for her. They certainly wouldn't have been useful when she had been ill.

They weren't suitable for an ill person—they were too strong and stiff and healthy and made for out-of-doors, but they would be wonderful again, and almost new to her!

The clothes had waited, very patiently, while Molly had been ill, and would be ready for her the very moment she was all well once more.

No Tail to Wag
John was showing off his Boston bulldog to his little friend, Mary, aged four. "My dog is better than yours. See, he has a screw tail."

"Yes," said Mary, "maybe he is, but your dog can't wag his tail when his screw one is there."

Father and Son Banquet Friday

Dr. Parry to Deliver Address at Tenth Annual Banquet at Y. M. C. A.—Is a Noted Orator.

The Rev. J. Buford Parry of Springfield, Mass., will be the speaker at the tenth annual Father and Son banquet to be held Friday evening at the local Y. M. C. A. Dr. Parry is a Welshman, born in Mold, North Wales. He was educated at the University of Bristol, England; the Western Theological College, Bristol, England; the Theological Seminary, Bangor, Maine; and Yale University. He was an honor student at all four colleges.

Dr. Parry has had and continues to receive rare success as a speaker in England and America. He has spoken in colleges, preparatory schools, women's clubs and in lecture courses. He is said to have the gift of his race in the possession of a musical voice of range and even tone, and an unusual facility of expression.

The head master of the Choate school for boys in Connecticut says of Dr. Parry:

The men to whom I feel most grateful for their influence here at school are Robert Spear, Dean Brown of Yale, Dr. Charles Erdman of Princeton, Harry E. Fosdick, and Mr. Parry. Mr. Parry is younger than the older men, but he has with them in makeup; much in common.

Church Workers Report.

The morning and evening services held in the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church on Sunday were well attended. The pastor delivered interesting sermons on both occasions and following the evening services a report was made by church workers. The sums and names of the collectors are as follows: E. O. Clark, $19.45; Sarah La Tour, $19.25; Eula Hubbs, $11; John Sampson, $4.15; James Raz, $5.40; Fred Dewitt, $1. The total amount received was $98.43. On next Sunday it is expected that all the workers will make a report and a special afternoon service will be held.

Advisory Council Of Farm Bureau

A new plan for holding Farm Bureau Advisory Council meetings was tried out this year and worked to perfection. Instead of holding one all day session in Kingston, committeemen were called together at two points in the county, Kingston and Clintondale. Evening meetings were called instead of day time meetings. The result was that committeemen were present at one meeting or the other from every community except one.

Each meeting was presided over by President Millard Davis in his friendly and able manner. Reports from committeemen on local conditions were first in order. Those who reported at the Kingston meeting on Friday were, for Accord, Edward Davenport, John Schoonmaker; for Asbury, George Sallie, Clarence Finger and Clarence Lasher; for Allgerville-Kyserike, Russell Trowbridge; for Flatbush, Fred Kukuk; for Hurley, John Beatty, Ray Eimendorf and M. L. E. DeWitt; for Kerhonkson, George Davis; for Stone Ridge, Ashton H. Hart, for Tannersville, L. B. Davis; for Ulster Park, Melvin Churchwell, Harry B. Elmendorf and Leslie Herring. At the Clintondale meeting on Saturday those who reported were, for Clintondale, Frank Gaffney, Nathan Ackhart, Harry Jenkins, Winfield Jenkins and J. H. Heaton; for Gardiner, Raymond DuBois, E. M. Buchanan, Solomon LeFevre; for Modena, Plattekill, Ralph Harcourt; for Marlborough, Jerome Pratt; for Marlborough, W. J. Haviland, Benjamin Chellura and Edward Quimby; for Milton, Peter McManus and C. J. Hepworth; for Walkkill-Shawangunk, Fred H. Stang, Clifford Hotelling, Edwin Sheeley and James T. Tucker.

The excellent reports and attendance of committeemen were commented on by the chairman as an indication that the Farm Bureau should enjoy its most successful year during 1927.

Following the committeemen's reports interesting talks were given by E. A. Flansburgh of the Central Office of Farm Bureaus, Ithaca, C. C. DuMont, local Farm Bureau director and F. M. Wigsten. A big feature of this meeting was the splendid musical entertainment given by Farm Bureau members and Grange members from Lake Katrine, Mr. and Mrs. William Hooley sang a duet, Ralph Young a solo while a quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Hooley and Mr. and Mrs. Young rendered several numbers. Mrs. Frank Brink and Wesley Parish accompanied the singers. Each entertainer responded to several encores. At the Clintondale meeting talks were made by E. A. Flansburgh, F. M. Wigsten and Millard Davis. Clintondale Grangers, Mr. and Mrs. Gerow, Winfield Jenkins and others whose names were not learned gave a splendid musical program.

MILTON.

Milton, Nov. 8.—Herbert Sears and A. C. Jenkins won several prizes for their display of fruit at the Farmers' Fall Festival held at Newburgh October 28, 29 and 30. Mr. Sears won the cup offered by the Newburgh Daily News and other prizes.

The Maids and Matrons' Tag Day last Tuesday was a grand success. The sum raised was $118, which is for the benefit of the Milton Library. The solicitors at District No. 3 were, Mrs. George Scott, chairman; Miss Winifred Driscoll, Mrs. Grover Ferguson, Mrs. Percy Bunker, Mrs. Westervelt and Miss Lois Taber. Those in District 4 were Mrs. E. A. Martin, chairman; Mrs. Carl Hergert, Mrs. Winfield Bailey, Mrs. Edward Wood, Mrs. Frank Wood, Mrs. Oliver Kent, Mrs. William M. R. Ordway.

The Milton Basketball team defeated the Phi Delta Sigma team of Newburgh by a score of 43-24 in their first game last Wednesday evening.

The $1,000 library drive began Monday of this week. During the week there will be a house to house canvass and all who are interested in the work are asked to contribute. The sum of $5 has been received from Congressman Harcourt J. Pratt. Much credit is due patrons who have been very generous in every past effort. The object of this effort is to get the debt now on the building paid up.

Much damage was done in this village and vicinity Halloween night. Small buildings were upset, one completely destroyed. The school house on Sands avenue was broken into and the bell damaged so that it is useless, and indecent writing was put on the blackboard.

A meeting of the Men's Club will be held Tuesday evening, November 16.

At the annual meeting at Newburgh last Monday afternoon, Raphael Weed was selected president of the Historical Society of Newburgh Bay and Highland, in place of J. R. Thompson, retired, who has served for three years. The meeting was held in the society room in the library building.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Clarke, Miss Mary Taber, Miss Lois and Ruth Taber, Glenn Clarke, Robert Taber and Kenneth Taber attended the Young People's meeting held in the Friends' Church at Clintondale last Friday evening.

Several motor accidents here last week were caused by the slippery wet roads.

The Maids and Matrons attended the entertainment at the Academy of Music at Newburgh last Thursday.

Fred Theil and family have moved into their new home recently erected by John B. Hall on South Main street.

Mrs. D. M. Warren and her brother are enjoying a trip to Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hepworth left for their winter home at Miami, Florida, last Tuesday.

Homecoming and family have moved to Newburgh.

Supervisors Meet To Canvass Vote

The members of the board of supervisors of Ulster county met at the court house at noon today and organized as a board of canvassers to examine and tabulate the vote cast at the general election Tuesday, November 2 as returned from the various districts.

Those present were called to order by John A. Nock, chairman of the Ulster county board of elections, Mark Sampson, clerk of the board of elections, calling the roll. A quorum was declared.

On motion of J. Charles Snyder, supervisor from the Twelfth Ward, John C. Shultz of Saugerties was named for chairman of the board of canvassers and unanimously chosen. He was escorted to the chair by Supervisors M. T. DeWitt of Hurley and Herbert Thomas of the First ward, Kingston, named as a committee by Chairman Nock.

The oath was administered to Chairman Shultz who then administered the oath to Mr. Nock as clerk of the board of canvassers, and then administered the oath to the members of the board.

After Chairman Shultz thanked the members for the honor of being selected, a motion to take a recess of ten minutes was carried.

Then the board reconvened, Chairman Shultz named the following committees:

- On receiving returns—Sweeney, Lyons, Wells.
 - On examining and reading returns—Shaw, Ripper, Schantz.
 - On tabulating returns—Heaton, DeWitt, Ten Hagen.
- A recess was then taken until 2 p. m.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Nicholas Freer of Allentown, Pa., died on Sunday, November 7. Interment in St. Remy Cemetery on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m.

Luman A. Lamoureux died at his home in Blue Mountain on Sunday of pneumonia. Besides his wife he is survived by several sons and daughters. One son is Henry Lamoureux, town assessor. Deceased was in his sixty-ninth year and was a man who was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Funeral in the Blue Mountain Church on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Blue Mountain Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Georgianna Camp, widow of the late William S. Camp, for many years in the 80's rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, this city, was held at her late home in Richmond Hill, New York city, on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Camp, who will be well remembered by many Kingstonians as a woman of rare charm of personality and Christian character, is survived by two children, a son, Guy, and a daughter, May.

Mary Menahan, wife of Matthew Kelly, died at the Post Graduate Hospital, New York city, Sunday morning. Mrs. Kelly was a former resident of this city, having lived on Pine Grove avenue at one time. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Harold M., and her father, Thomas Menahan; two sisters and five brothers. The remains will arrive in this city Wednesday morning upon the 11:05 West Shore train and be conveyed to St. Mary's Church, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery.

West Shokan Dance.

There will be a community party and dance at Colonge's Hall, West Shokan, on Saturday night, November 13. Everybody is welcome. Ladies are asked to bring refreshments. Music will be by Roosa's orchestra.

Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Constructive forces were again at work in today's stock market which responded to a lowering of all money rates and favorable trade developments. Buying orders were distributed over a fairly broad list, more than a dozen issues being elevated to new high levels for the year. Bear traders continued to seek out weak spots, but they made little headway.

United States Steel retained the leadership of the advance by crossing 149, the reported reduction in operations in the Youngstown district during the last fortnight being offset by the announcement that inquiries were being made for 300 locomotives and a large quantity of steel rails.

National Tea scored an extreme gain of seven points and Universal Pipe preferred Mack Trucks. International Harvester, General Asphalt preferred Commercial Solvents "B" and Granby Copper all sold to nearly five points above yesterday's final quotations. The list of new highs include Kennecott Copper, Granby Public Service of New Jersey, Shell Union Oil, Eureka Vacuum and American Sugar preferred. Weakness of Warner Pictures "A" failed to check the demand for famous players which crossed 117 to a new high on the current movement on buying influenced by reports of larger earnings.

Declaration of only the regular dividend on Chicago and Northwestern, settling at rest rumors of an extra distribution, temporarily checked bullish enthusiasm for the rails although Rock Island six per cent preferred was lifted to a new peak, and a number of other high grade issues advanced a point or two.

Quotations given by C. D. Halsey & Co., 27 William street, New York city, branch office, Warren Building, 260-62 Fair street, Kingston, N. Y.

Society Notes

Smith-Ackerman.

Robert Smith of Chichester and Miss Dorothea Ackerman of No. 66 Van Buren street were united in marriage on October 31 by the Rev. Gregory Mabry of the Holy Cross Church. They were attended by Maurice Niles and Miss Agnes Dunn.

Bush-Beechold.

Mrs. L. Beechold of Connelly announces the marriage of her daughter, Josephine A., to Irving H. Bush of this city. The ceremony was performed in St. Peter's rectory on October 27, by the Rev. John P. Neumann. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bice of Connelly.

Club Lecture Postponed.

Owing to the fact that Dr. Laura J. Wyllie, professor emerita of English of Vassar College, was ill with some throat difficulty, the lecture which she was to give on "The Modern English and American Novel" before the two clubs and the associate members on Wednesday afternoon at the chapel of the First Reformed Church, has been postponed one week.

Sorosis.

Sorosis was entertained by Mrs. Church on Monday afternoon. Current Events were reported by Mrs. Gifford and Mrs. Clarence Dunn gave an excellent resume of "The Perennial Bachelor," by Parrish. Next Monday Sorosis will meet with Mrs. Lasher and enjoy a card party, the proceeds from which will go toward financing the expenses of the club delegate to the State Federation meeting.

Clineman-Shurter.

Charles Clineman of Walden, son of James J. Clineman, was married to Miss Rose Struber, daughter of Augustus Struber of Rosendale, at the rectory on Sunday evening, November 7, by the Rev. James G. Cameron, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Rosendale. The attendants were John Morey and Miss Ruth Funnell of Walden. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clineman wish them a prosperous and happy future.

Snyder-Vedder.

Victor Snyder, son of George J. Snyder of this city, and Mary Vedder, daughter of Mrs. Mary Vedder, of 65 Staples street, this city, were married Friday, November 5, at St. Mary's rectory by the Rev. Father Kennedy. They were attended by Walter Snyder, brother of the groom, and Agnes Vedder, sister of the bride. They have the best wishes of their numerous friends in Kingston where they will reside.

Harry Maines and Miss Ella Akaduskie were united in marriage in St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Martin P. O'Garra. The attendants were William Maines and Mrs. Richard Underhill. Following the ceremony the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon and upon their return will reside with Mr. Maines's mother on Livingston street, Saugerties. He is employed in the Saugerties Gas Light Company.

The Coterie.

Mrs. Brown was the hostess of The Coterie on Saturday afternoon. Two papers of more than ordinary interest and unusual in character were given. Mrs. Russell had the first of these papers on "The Deluge—A Movie of Yesterday and Tomorrow," while Miss Hale's paper had for its subject, "European Mammoth Hunters of the Great Moravian Caves." The Coterie had two guests of honor, the Misses Walker of Paterson, N. J., who were formerly Coterie members. Mrs. Eastman will be the hostess at the next meeting of The Coterie.

Twentieth Century Club.

The Twentieth Century Club met at the home of Mrs. E. O. Allen on Monday afternoon. Following the roll call of Current Events, an admirable paper on "Early Italian Art," prepared by Mrs. Everett, was read by Mrs. Coe and was followed by a second very interesting and informing paper on "Potteries of Egypt," given by Mrs. Van Wyck. The club voted to contribute a warm woolen blanket for daytime use to the Tuberculosis Hospital. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Maurice Safford and Mrs. A. Ray Powley, president of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs, will give a report of the State Federation meeting.

Coolidge Asks For Non-Partisan Tax Agreement

President Desires Party Lines Be Forgotten in Tax Refund Proposal—Politici Wrangle Will Make It Difficult to Work Out Relief For Taxpayers.

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—President Coolidge today asked for non-partisan consideration of his tax refund proposal. He made known through the White House spokesman his desire that party lines be forgotten in consideration of the proposal by congress.

It also was disclosed that the income tax credit plan announced yesterday by Secretary Mellon was not the final proposal of the administration.

The President will confer with members of the house ways and means committee before recommending how the surplus should be returned to the taxpayers.

The White House pronouncement did not refer directly to Democratic charges that the President's move was a political one, but it was said that Mr. Coolidge felt politics must be avoided at all hazards.

If the tax credit proposal becomes involved in a political controversy at the short session it will be difficult, in the President's opinion, to work out any relief for the taxpayer at this time.

The President thinks the best method of action by congress would be that pursued in the last congress, when a non-partisan agreement was worked out for passage of the revenue act.

JAMES A. PHELAN PAYS

TRIBUTE TO MAYOR BLOCK

Death — the black camel that kneels at the gate of every man—has taken Morris Block on that long and mysterious journey from life to eternity, to the ashes of our fathers, to the everlasting temples of our God.

His passing has filled the city with mourning, for he was dear to Kingston, and Kingston was dear to him. Every pulsation of his life vibrated for her welfare. His money, time and energy were always at the command of the city government along the path of progress. He loved every stone of her structures, glowed in her educational institutions, rejoiced in her historical riches, delighted in her commercial ascendancy, found joy in her contribution to the world of letters and of art.

A many-sided man was Morris Block—a student of public affairs, and a champion of the fundamental principles of our government. For his own efforts, he was his own star. For the efforts of others, he was a beacon when friendship lit the lamp of counsel. In kindness with other spirits, he begot an enthusiasm and fostered a determination such as moves mountains when justice was to be done.

In the social amenities of life, he was a living example of the best Lord Chesterfield taught in his famous letters. It was to a man like him that Cowper referred when he wrote, "An honest man, close-buttoned to the chin; broadcloth without, and a warm heart within." In him, the cardinal virtues found a personification: art, a patron; literature, a lover. He ransacked the world for curios and relics that teach the tale of humanity better than the lettered page. His public spirit knew only the limitations of human nature, or the impossibility of waking hours for the projects he approved, and for the purposes he applauded.

Morris Block was a firm believer in the Biblical injunction, "Let not the right hand know what the left hand doeth." Various and multifarious are these—more than the public imagines. Mere mention of his name and of the many honors showered upon him, bear witness to his lofty character; for no one, save only one whose traits that were noble, instincts that were admirable, acts that were kindly, ever wins and possesses the esteem in which he was held by the citizens of our city. Irrespective of color, race, or creed. He belonged to no race, no time, no clime. He belonged to humanity. A life thus passed in the performance of every duty, the development of every generous impulse, of every power of intellect, of every refinement of taste, surely is not without some return, even here.

His life's journey over, his duty faithfully performed, his work done, may the future crown his name with a martyr, which it so richly deserves; and may the history of the City of Kingston keep his memory green forever.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, Nov. 9 (AP)—Wheat—December, $1.42; May, $1.46 1/2. Corn—December, 76c; May, 75c. Oats—December, 42 1/2c; May, 47 1/2c.

Meaning of "Chicago"

"Chicago" is an Anglicized form of the Indian word "shegach," ordinarily meaning sheath, but which was so altered so as to make it a synonym for "strong," "vigorous," "valiant." It was applied to the wild animal, a lion of Indian chiefs, to thunder, and, among other rivers, is that which runs through the present city of Chicago. In this case the name was not meant as a tribute to the magnitude of the stream, but merely commemorated the tradition that one of the Shegach chiefs had at some remote period been drowned in its waters.

Woman Beaten to Death With Club

Windsor, Vt., Nov. 9 (AP).—Questioning of three men, two of whom are former convicts, was being pressed here today in an effort to reveal the identity of the slayer of Miss Cecelia Sullivan, treasurer of the Cone Automatic Machine Company. The woman's body was found in a bed on the sleeping porch of her home here yesterday morning. She was beaten dead with a club.

Albert Fortin and John Winters, former convicts, and Reginald Hutt were being questioned.

Making Tough Meat Tender. On Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock Miss Fannie C. Kiff, home service director for the Kingston Gas and Electric Company, will demonstrate how to make tough cuts of meat tender. This class as well as the one on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. will be held at 5 Field Court. All women are invited to attend these classes. Meat is one of the largest items in the average food budget, as it is one of the most attractive dishes on the menu. Inexpensive cuts of meat have as much nutritive value and may be as attractively prepared as the more expensive saving in cost. Home service is prepared to present some interesting ideas on this subject in this week's demonstration.

Perhaps the man who isn't satisfied with his lot failed to plant enough flowers on it.

Red Cross Roll Call Thursday

Annual Roll Call Begins on Armistice Day—One-half of Proceeds Available to County in Case of Local Calamity.

Beginning Armistice Day, Thursday, November 11, the nation-wide 1926 Red Cross roll call will begin in this city and county as elsewhere throughout the United States. It is expected that the 5,000 homes in this city and the thousands of homes in the county will within the week be visited and the members of those families asked to pay a dollar to become members of the Red Cross this year.

There is nothing thrilling in that announcement, especially as every dollar looks bigger and bigger the nearer we come to Christmas. But it is quite possible to get the wrong kind of a thrill if one tries to think what the world would be today without any Red Cross in times of emergency like the Florida disaster, or some other dire catastrophe. No matter what calamity might befall Ulster county, half of the proceeds of the roll call, plus whatever may be now in the Red Cross treasury here, would be instantly available and ready to put into remedial motion by Red Cross workers here at home. If the catastrophe befalls some other place, the other half of the funds will be in the National treasury ready to do their part to help where needed, and that almost instantly.

The roll call was inaugurated with Red Cross Sunday, November 7, when the pastors of all churches were asked to remind their congregations of their privilege of joining the Red Cross on Armistice Day.

Mrs. Thomas Hayes and Mrs. Daniel Hicks will have charge of the Kingston roll call and District Attorney Traver of the county.

CLASSIC FILM TO BE SHOWN AT WOODSTOCK

The churches of Woodstock—Methodist, Lutheran and Reformed—will give an exhibition of the classic film, "Martin Luther—His Life and Time," as part of the program to observe the Reformation. The moving picture is an eight reel picture and comes very highly recommended. It has been shown in a great many places throughout the country, having been placed before the public by a subsidiary organization of one of the Lutheran denominations.

The showing in Woodstock will be on Wednesday, November 10, at 7 and 9 p. m. in the main auditorium of the Reformed Church. It will be under the immediate direction of an experienced operator. An admission fee will be charged at the door to pay for the renting of the film. All receipts above expenses will be given to the work of helping the Protestant churches of northern European countries which have been brought into dire need by reason of the World War.

This will afford a splendid educational opportunity of seeing the life of one of the world's most interesting men depicted on the screen. No figure in Christendom since the days of the early church presents more attractive features than the heroic personality of Martin Luther.

The following memorial was adopted by the Board of Managers and the Medical Board of the Benedictine Hospital:

With every citizen of this city we mourn the passing from this life of one who, several times honored by his fellow citizens by his election as mayor, faithfully brought to his public duties the same unselfishness, loyalty and honesty displayed by him in his private life.

Morris Block was one in whom the utmost confidence could be placed, one whose charity was unlimited and at the same time unheralded, one whose every thought and act was for the public which had so honored him.

To the general expressions of sorrow and esteem we add our personal appreciation of the interest ever displayed by him in our hospital and of the many courtesies extended to us, and while we pray for him we feel sure that by his acts in this life he has earned the place reserved for him in the greater life to come.

We tender to his family, whose personal loss is great, our sincere sympathy.—Advertisement.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

The evangelistic services now being conducted in the Wurts Street Baptist Church are attracting large crowds. Mr. Strathearn's methods are not of the sensational type, and his appeal is arousing interest. He preached a powerful sermon on Sunday night to a filled church on the subject of the "Downfall of Wallace Reid."

Special delegations are expected from other churches and secret orders this week. The subject of the evangelist tonight will be "Wine, Women and Song." The solo work by Dorothy Strathearn, who received a part of her training in the Eastman School of Music, is an outstanding feature of the meetings, and lovers of music in the city of Kingston will enjoy the opportunity to hear her sing.

The people who supported the tent evangelistic meetings last summer have asked for a space to be reserved for them tonight, at which time they will attend in a body.
